When I woke up I was laying on my side on top of his bed. I felt fine but a bit disorientated. I wondered what time it was as I still felt tired. Stephen opened the door and brought me a cup of something in a white plastic disposable cup. He came towards me and said it was water or something to wake me up. I was thirsty. The cup was half full and the contents looked clear. I can't remember if it was water as it didn't taste of anything. After I had the glass of clear tasteless fluid I was knocked out.

The next thing I remember I awoke and was laying on the floor. I found myself naked and I recall that my penis was erect. I don't know why I was aroused and I began screaming and shouting. I felt I was out of my mind. I felt like I didn't know who I was, who he was, where I was or what time it was. I wasn't in any pain but I was very disorientated. Stephen came into the room, he was holding me up. I was asking him how I got there. I kept repeating that I had to go home, that my parents were going to kill me. I was asking him if it was the next day or morning. Stephen helped dress me and put my shoes and coat on as I could barely dress myself. Stephen continued to hold me up because I was physically unable to walk. He gave me my DPA bag to put over my shoulder.

I am convinced that I was drugged by Stephen PORT on the occasion I have described, as there is no other explanation that left me in the state I found myself in having been given the drink by him. I never consented to take anything given by him other than the 'Poppers'.

I am also deeply concerned that having awoke from my unconsciousness; I was naked and was sexually aroused with my penis erect. I did not take off my underwear and did not consent anyone else to remove it.
