

saying much. I sat with him and Stephen but did not get the answers I needed, so thought that I had to forget it. I never returned to the flat after this occasion.

I did make contact a final time via Facebook. I asked questions but then blocked him.

I unblocked him to see if he had answered, but he hadn't. I felt Stephen PORT was just a fake person and meeting him completely put me off meeting anyone else online as I was aware of the dangers it posed.

I am convinced that I was drugged by Stephen PORT on the occasion I have described, as there is no other explanation that left me in the state I found myself in having been given the drink by him. I never consented to take anything given by him other than the 'Poppers'.

I am also deeply concerned that having awoke from my unconsciousness; I was naked and was sexually aroused with my penis erect. I did not take off my underwear and did not consent anyone else to remove it.

It has taken some time to provide this statement to the police as I am really fearful that my details are not revealed so that they are reported on in the media. My sexuality is a very private and I do not want anyone to know of my involvement in this case as if it were I would never have agreed to assist the police in this case.
