122. The laptop was logged off the internet at 2.57am on 19th June 2014 and shows no further use by Port until 23rd June 2014³⁴.

123. Enquiries were not made with Port's employer, OCS, during the original investigation. When spoken to by officers from Operation Lilford, Port's line manager at the time, Stanley Worthington, made a statement on 24th November 2015³⁵ in which he stated:

"I recall getting a phone call from Stephen, it would have been about three years ago, his mobile number is 07903854105, Stephen told me that he was leaving for work. He was due to start at 0600 hours so it would have been very early he called me. He told me that he had tried to get out of his flats and the external door was blocked by a young boy in the way. Stephen said that he had moved him out of the way, but said that something wasn't right, he couldn't leave him there. He said that he called an ambulance, they had arrived and found that the person was dead. He has then said he had tried to leave and come to work when he was stopped by the police."

124. The personnel department of Port's employer confirmed that he did not have any periods of sickness or annual leave during this time period, in a statement made by Ms El-Aasar³⁶.

125. Port's employers were not asked about Port's normal shift pattern.

126. Sharon Port provided some detail of her brother's shifts in her statement stating that he would either work 6am-2pm or 2pm-10pm – 5 or 6 days a week³⁷.

127. No further information could be gleaned by Operation Lilford as to Port's movements at this time.
