Hi Sir

At present the labs are extremely backed up and this has not been deemed urgent so is likely to take some time to come back (I am a FLO on another job and it took 15 weeks to get results and the body still hasn't been released). How do you want me to play this with the family. At present They know its unexplained and likely to be suicide. The following points could be tricky with regards to family.

- Dad Adam has seen part of suicide note to verify Daniels writing, he has already asked to see the full note. I believe he suspects there is more detail of what happened and feels we are withholding information.
- Deceased partner Ricky appears to know nothing about Daniels recent movements/actions with other men, this could be very tricky if he finds out.

Kind Regards

Paul,

Advice from SC&O1 below. Given their advice, I am minded to follow this and not release the body until toxicology has been completed.

Hi Rolf,

In short, it is best not to release the body to the family as there are still not enough answers for all concerned to be satisfied regarding the cause of death. My advice is await the results of the toxicology as if it turns out to be an unlawful killing of some kind there is potential for more work to be done. Also, if it is an unlawful killing and a suspect is identified, or if the coroner is not happy for some reason, there will be a 2nd post mortem carried out.
