Review Text: This briefing note relates to the sudden death of Jack TAYLOR, the progress of the investigation to date and some issues raised as a result of the progress of that investigation to date that require further exploration/ investigation/ advice.

The body of JT, 20/06/1990, Male, IC1 was found in Barking Abbey ruins around 1315 hours on Monday 14th Sept 2015 (CAD 3750 refers)

A council refuge collector alerted police on cycle patrol, PC Taylor 762KG and PC Holder 820KG first officers on scene. [MG1s have been taken]

He found in a sitting position with his back to the wall in the South west corner of the green [he was outside of the Abbey Ruins in contrast to the two males found deceased at this location last year and there is, as yet, no known connection between those deaths and that of Jack]. He was fully dressed and very wet from heavy rain showers. He was in full view of nearby footpaths that criss-cross this location & no obvious efforts had been made to conceal him, indeed to the passer-by it would reasonably appear that he was asleep against the wall. There were no immediate (or subsequent) signs of any force (ie injury) being used or any 'posing' of his body He was searched and the following items were found, one syringe with needle, one lighter, one small liquid bottle, self seal bag with white powder and a wallet containing various bank cards and photo ID, used to confirm the identity and the male.
A fact not identified at the time was that no phone was found on or near Jack.

The body was searched [down to skin] for [any] signs of injury or marks by PCs Taylor & Holder at the direction of DS Sweetman / Insp JOD but none were noted by police.

Scene attended by Duty Inspector O'Donohue and DS Sweetman, following conversation / initial assessment this incident was deemed a non-suspicious, unexplained sudden death. As such CSE 250 Dean attended and photographed the scene with Jack in situ .

Body removed scene closed at 1920 hours.

Later at the post mortem, a tournique and alcohol wipes were also found in the inside pocket of the males jacket.

The pathologist also note a mark on the inside crease of Jack's right elbow. This believes is a needle mark.

Review Text: Carrying on from briefing note referred to above and meeting held at KW.
Suggested actions (in no particular ranking I am aware of now listed as outstanding or complete).
Outstanding

"where's my iPhone" app - as above this is outstanding as Jack's sister Donna was to be approached today for relevant passwords

Having gained financial details conduct Equifax check and consider contacting the Criminal Finance Team.

Explore connection or not between this unexplained death and the 2 linked deaths found at Barking Abbey last year - I have listed this here as not complete, however, this was considered on the day Jack was found and no obvious link was apparent.

Completed

Explore open source - as above PC Ager has completed facebook enquiries - I'm led to believe these consist of normal facebook 'chatter' up to the point where the news of Jack's death is discovered then feature posts from his friends expressing grief etc that are to be expected.

Secure laptop - for further social media work and address point 5 of Coroners directives.

Secure financial information such as credit card bills from home address - a number of such items have been secured. From PS Laffan - There is nothing that immediately appears suspicious or gives cause for alarm (mindful of the £600 advance mentioned on the briefing note) ie there is no sudden large expenditure.

I'm advised that the Oyster card taken from Jack's wallet hadn't been used and the bank card in his possession does not have Oyster facility. On his statements are Oyster payments suggesting, I'm told, that he either had another Oyster or 'enabled' bank card.

Ensure lab form submitted for powder / liquid found - as above under forensics this has been done by Coroners officer.

Search the IMEI for Jack's phone through NMPR to ascertain if it has been checked at all (ie someone attempting to sell it) this is complete & negative,

DMC press release - completed
