Chaps,

This enquiry has certainly moved on with some goodwork to identify the disparities in account.

As discussed with Eugene, I feel that this case should now be taken on by Chris and team. We have a Deceased with some bruising and a witness who is lying.

The matter will be forced if and when we arrest the caller on suspicion of murder in any event.

In this regard, I need you both to be "pleasantly demanding" of Chris, who in all fairness has been really helpful in the past. We will need a face-to-face.

I have also given the Boss a brief update. He asked all sorts of questions as you can imagine and I suggested that I provide him an update on progress by end of play.

In particular, Eugene can you update your really useful summary with what advice was dished out from the HAT car on the day of the finding, reassurance that we had serviced the plan and finally how we found out that he had been economical with the truth.

In sum, aims for today;

- SC&O1 ownership
- Caller arrested
- Scene secured

Cheers

mike
